Dear Friends:

BIG FAMILY CHANGES AROUND EUROPE

PEW FOUNDATION:

In the next 30 years migration into Europe, at current levels of non-refugee migration, will likely grow the total Muslim population from its present 4.9% to 11.7%. For more see this Pew Foundation report, and for key European demographic facts see even more here. Despite this influx of these fertile families, Europe remains below replacement levels.

ABORTION AND CONTRACEPTION

Caitlin Myers of Middlebury College VT in a 2017 research article concludes: “I provide new evidence on the relative ‘powers’ of contraception and abortion policy in effecting the dramatic social transformations of the 1960s and 1970s. - - - [T]he estimates robustly suggest that it was liberalized access to abortion that allowed large numbers of women to delay marriage and motherhood.” Her analysis indicates an interdependent relationship: first comes contraception, then comes abortion. Ireland, having accepted contraception decades ago, is now caving on abortion. The Irish are free to choose but they are not free to choose the negative natural law consequences of being a contracepting society, nor of soon being an aborting society.

BLOG: CONFUSED POSTMODERNITY STRIVING FOR SEXUAL COMPLEMENTARITY

“Grace” took serious revenge in an anonymous blog after feeling ill-treated on her date with TV comedian and filmmaker Aziz Ansari. Many in the media have weighed in on both sides. A bad night was had by both, much worse for the woman, but not great for repentant Aziz either. The fall-out may be greater caution from men — much needed in Aziz’s world. Clearly, neither he nor ‘Grace’ know where to find the most lovable, most enjoyable, and most cared-for sexual intercourse Continue reading...
